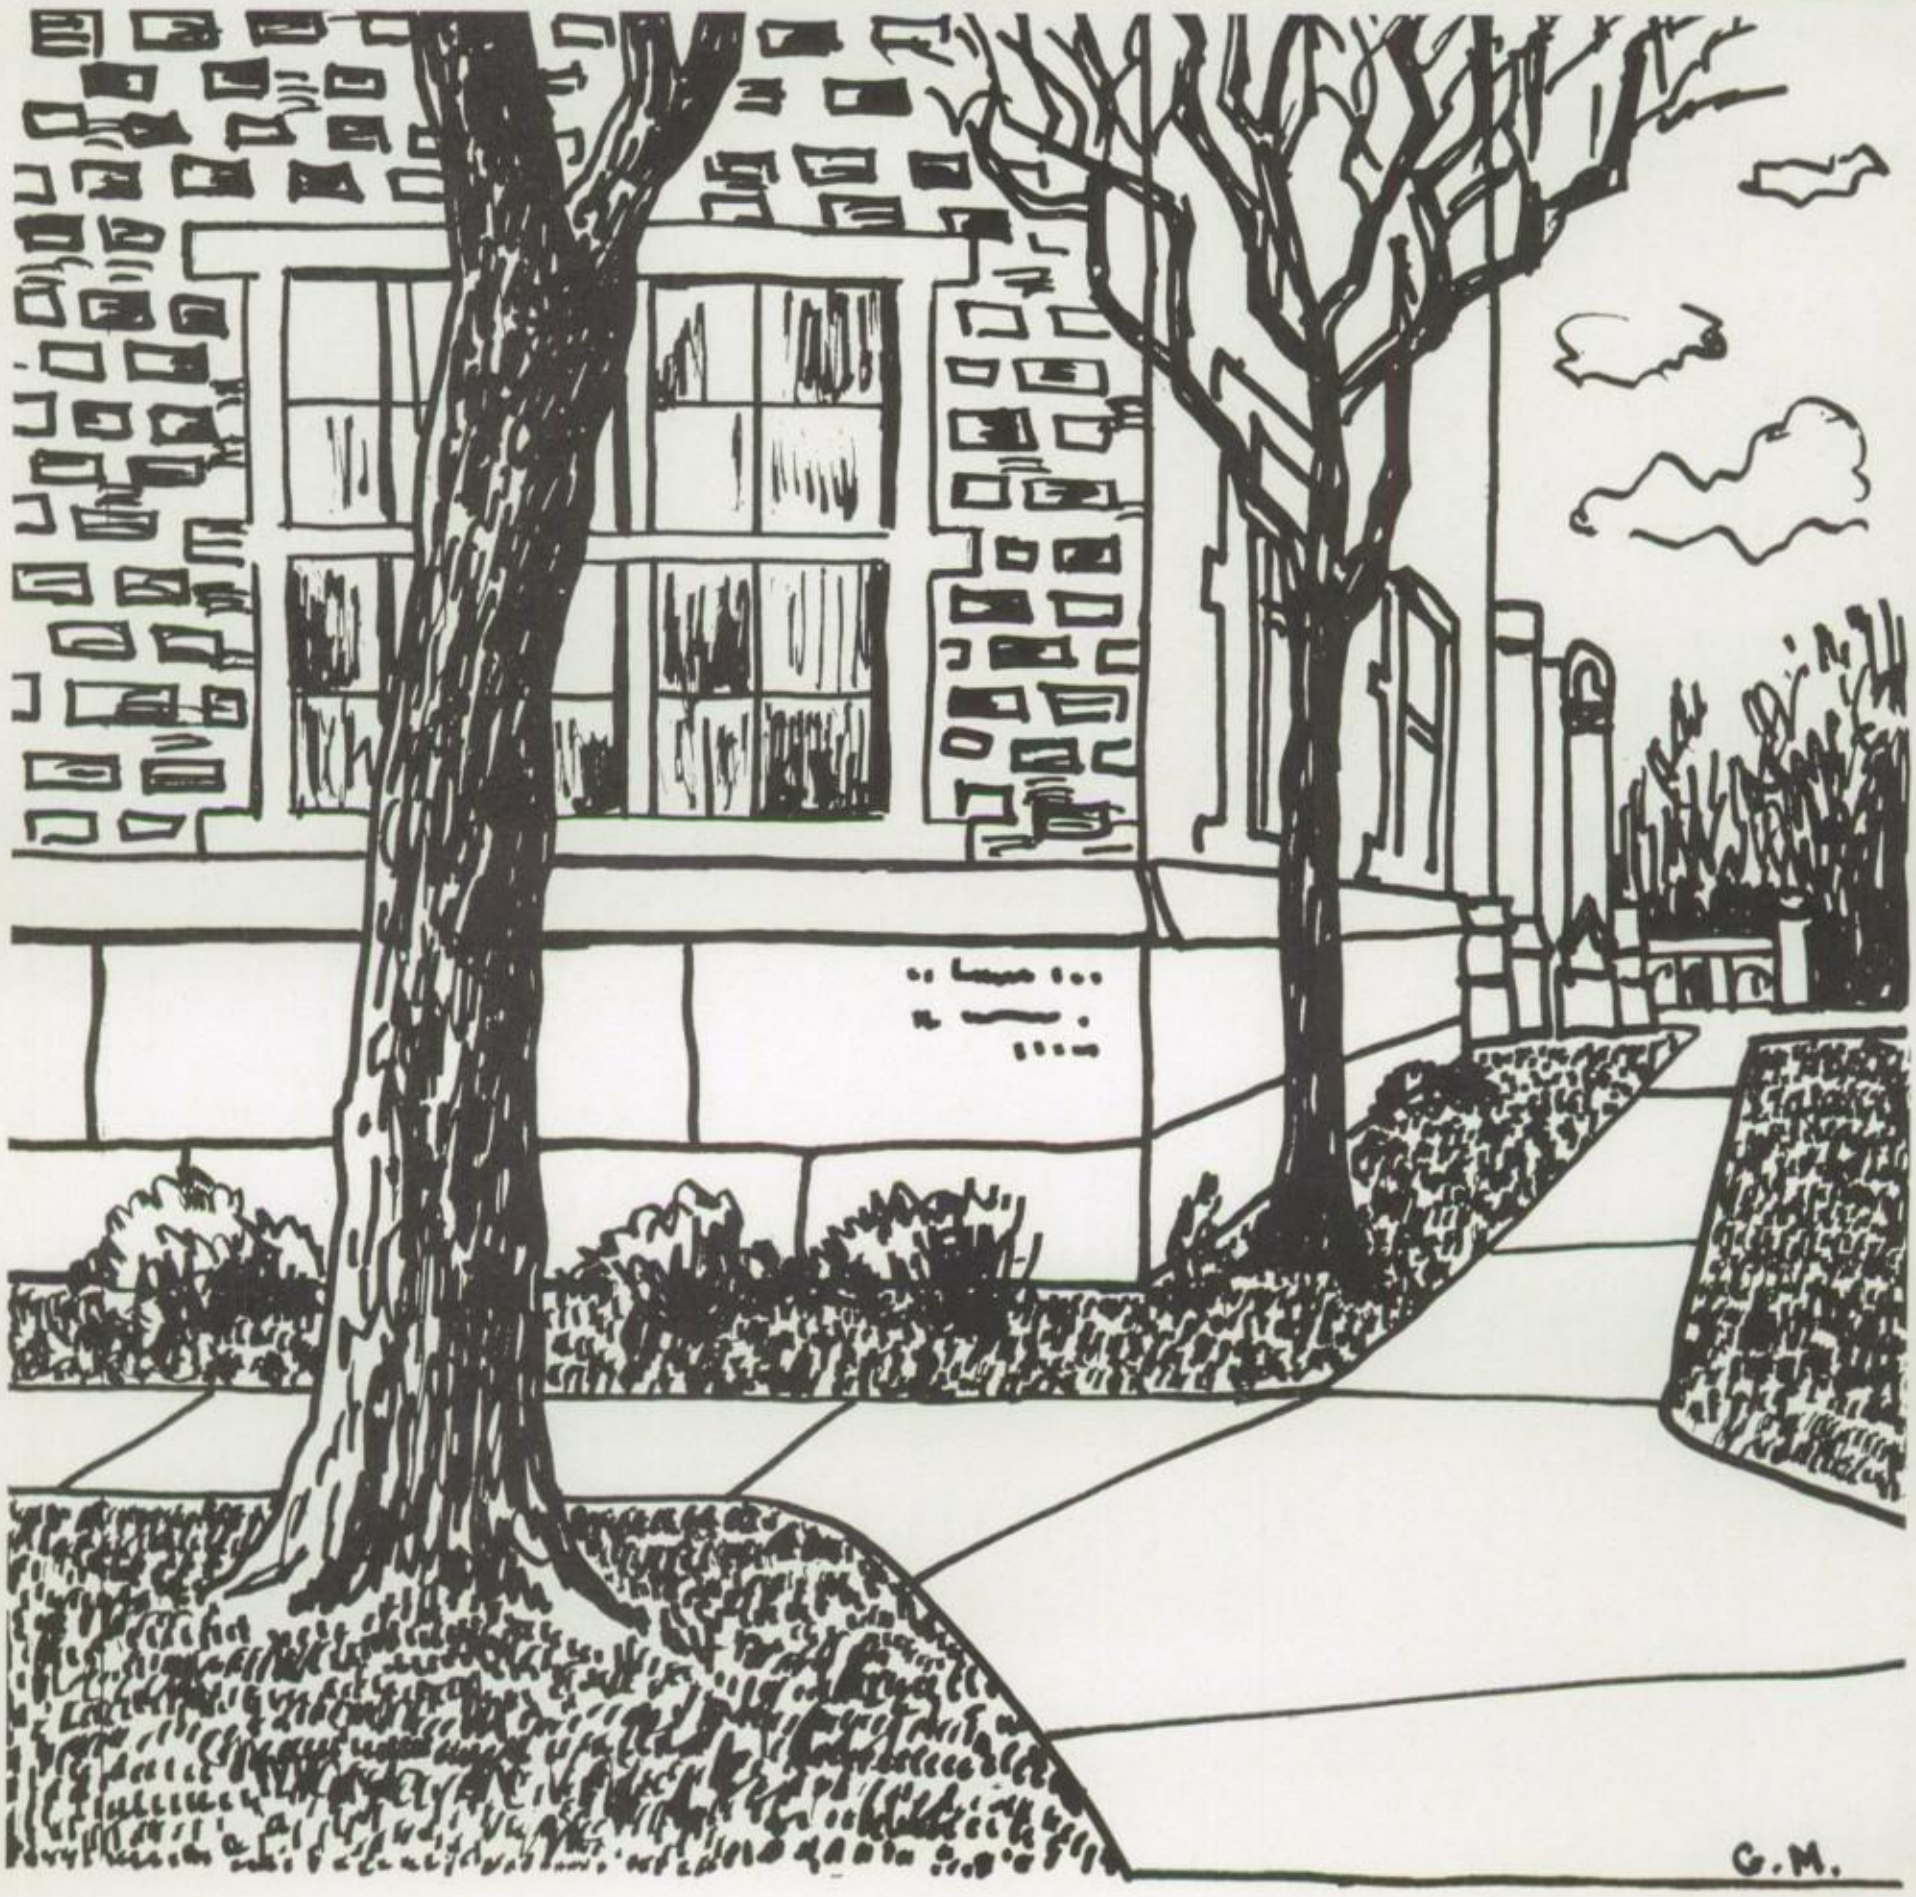
FACULTY



Just as the cornerstone of an edifice supports its entirety, our teachers and administrators uphold the academic principles for which Libbey must stand. Our success in high school and in later life is dependent upon those who plan the curriculum, coordinate our activities, and guide us with patience and understanding. From our faculty we seek the preparation, the education, and the wisdom that will determine our success in every walk of life.

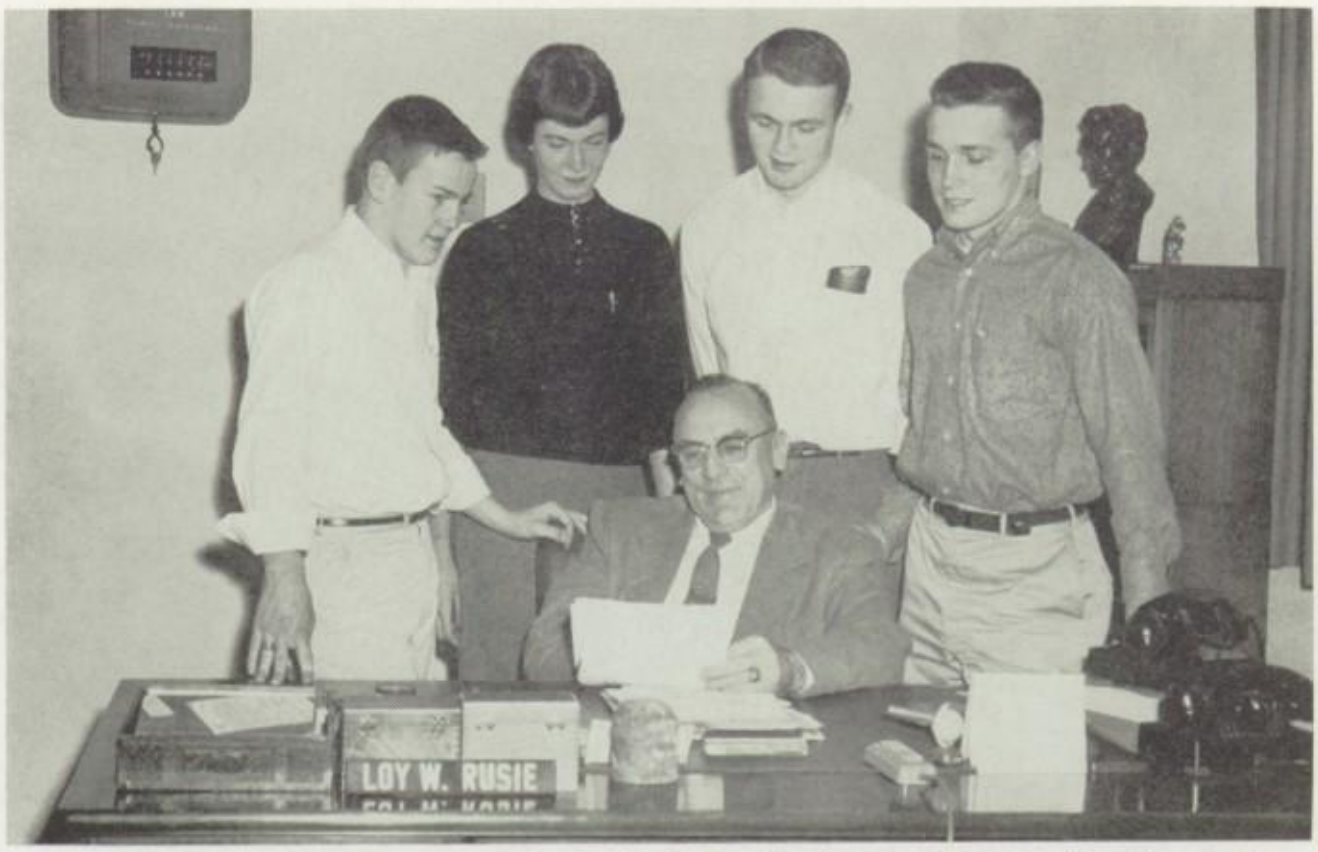
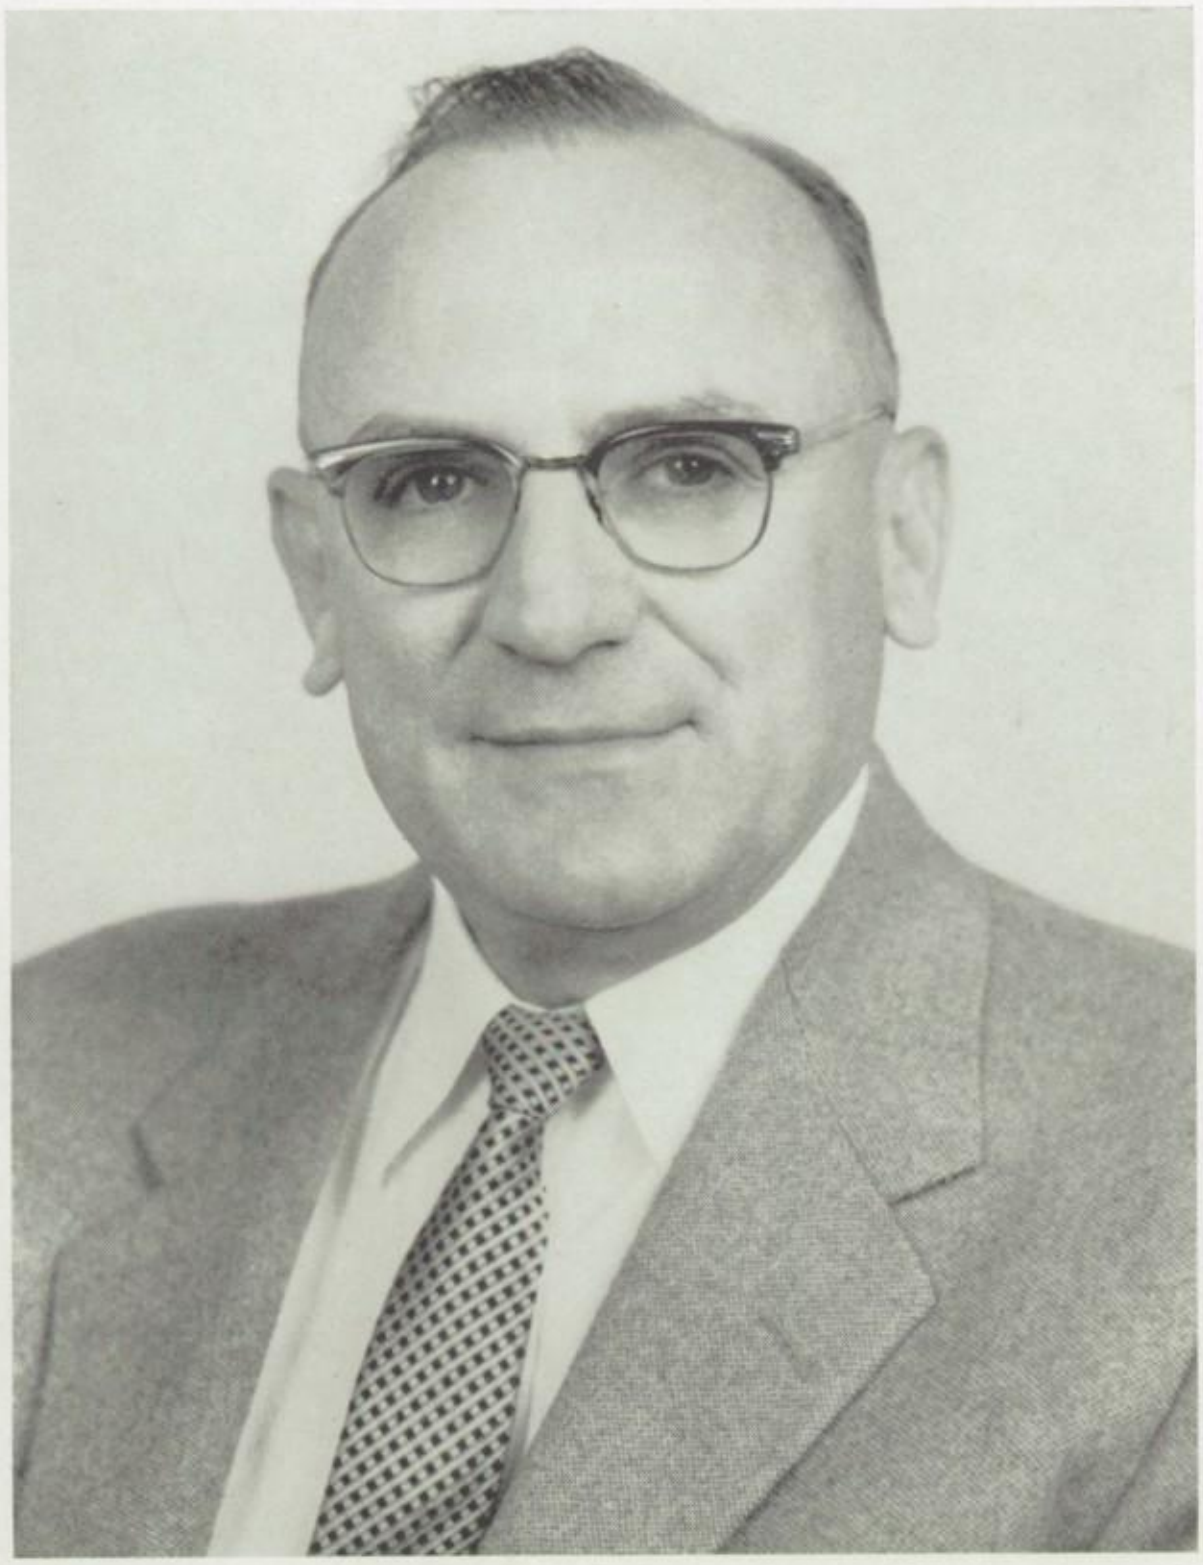
Guiding and directing the work of more than seventeen hundred teachers and guarding the welfare of all the public school pupils is the momentous task of our superintendent, Mr. Philo Dunsmore. His untiring energy, scholarly demeanor, and cooperation in all projects for the good of both the school and the community have already made him a revered administrator of our system. With his hearty handshake and responsive smile, Mr. Dunsmore is an immediate friend of all who meet him. We, of the Senior Class of Libbey High School, extend to him our best wishes for his continued success in the ensuing years.

Superintendent
Philo C. Dunsmore



Mr. Rusie discusses many of the school problems with the Student Council officers: Tom Waterman, sergeant-at-arms; Sue Case, secretary-treasurer; Gary Metz, president; and John Petterson, vice-president.



Mr. Rusie, a man of high ideals and sterling character, has the rare qualities of both an able administrator and a kind, understanding friend. Despite his multitudinous responsibilities he is never too busy to address a friendly remark or to offer timely advice. Whether it be on the sidelines of a football game or at an essay award presentation, it is easily recognized that Mr. Rusie is one of Libbey's most loyal enthusiasts. His understanding, tact, and wisdom will influence us in later life, for his cheerful attitude and ever-present smile have won both our admiration and our respect.

The teachers who merit the respect and admiration of all their students are those who have inspired, by example as well as by teaching, both fair-mindedness and integrity. We at Libbey are fortunate to possess three such teachers who have encouraged among the youth with whom they are in contact not only the growth of good character but also the desire for scholastic achievement.

Since September, 1923, when Libbey first opened its doors, our retiring teachers, Miss Owen and Miss Wylie, have tirelessly and enthusiastically devoted their time and effort to the Home Economics Department; likewise, Mr. Vossler, our science chairman, had kept his department apace with our rapidly changing times. Indeed, their attitude of devotion to their profession could be a pattern for those of us who strive to emulate the best in the people with whom we come in contact.

For our retiring teachers we wish many years of happiness as they pursue their hobbies of reading, photography, and travel, whether it be in the environs of Toledo or in the beautiful Rocky Mountains where Miss Wylie has a "dream" cottage overlooking Estes Park. In sincere gratitude to Miss Isla Owen, Miss Helen Wylie, and Mr. Frederick Vossler for their many years of service to the students of Libbey, the members of the Senior Class with respect and affection dedicate the Edelian of 1959.

1. After the monthly teachers' meetings the members of the faculty enjoy delicious cake and coffee served by the various service clubs of the school.

Mrs. Reemes and Mrs. Upp converse on a humorous topic.

Before leaving Libbey, Mrs. Davis flashes her typical smile. All the girls in her gym classes regret that she moved to California at the end of the semester.

Mrs. Garner, the former Crystal adviser and English teacher of Libbey, displays her effervescent personality. The Peries and all her former pupils wish her good luck and success in her new home in Pennsylvania.

Everyone apparently is enjoying "Chef" Jeffery's cooking at the teachers' autumn fish fry.

The Libbey chapter for the preservation of barbershop septets.

A typical teachers' meeting.

Mr. Kiefer shows interesting slides of Hawaii to the teachers.

Mr. Rusie welcomes Mr. Mohrhardt and Mr. Sterling to Libbey Open House.

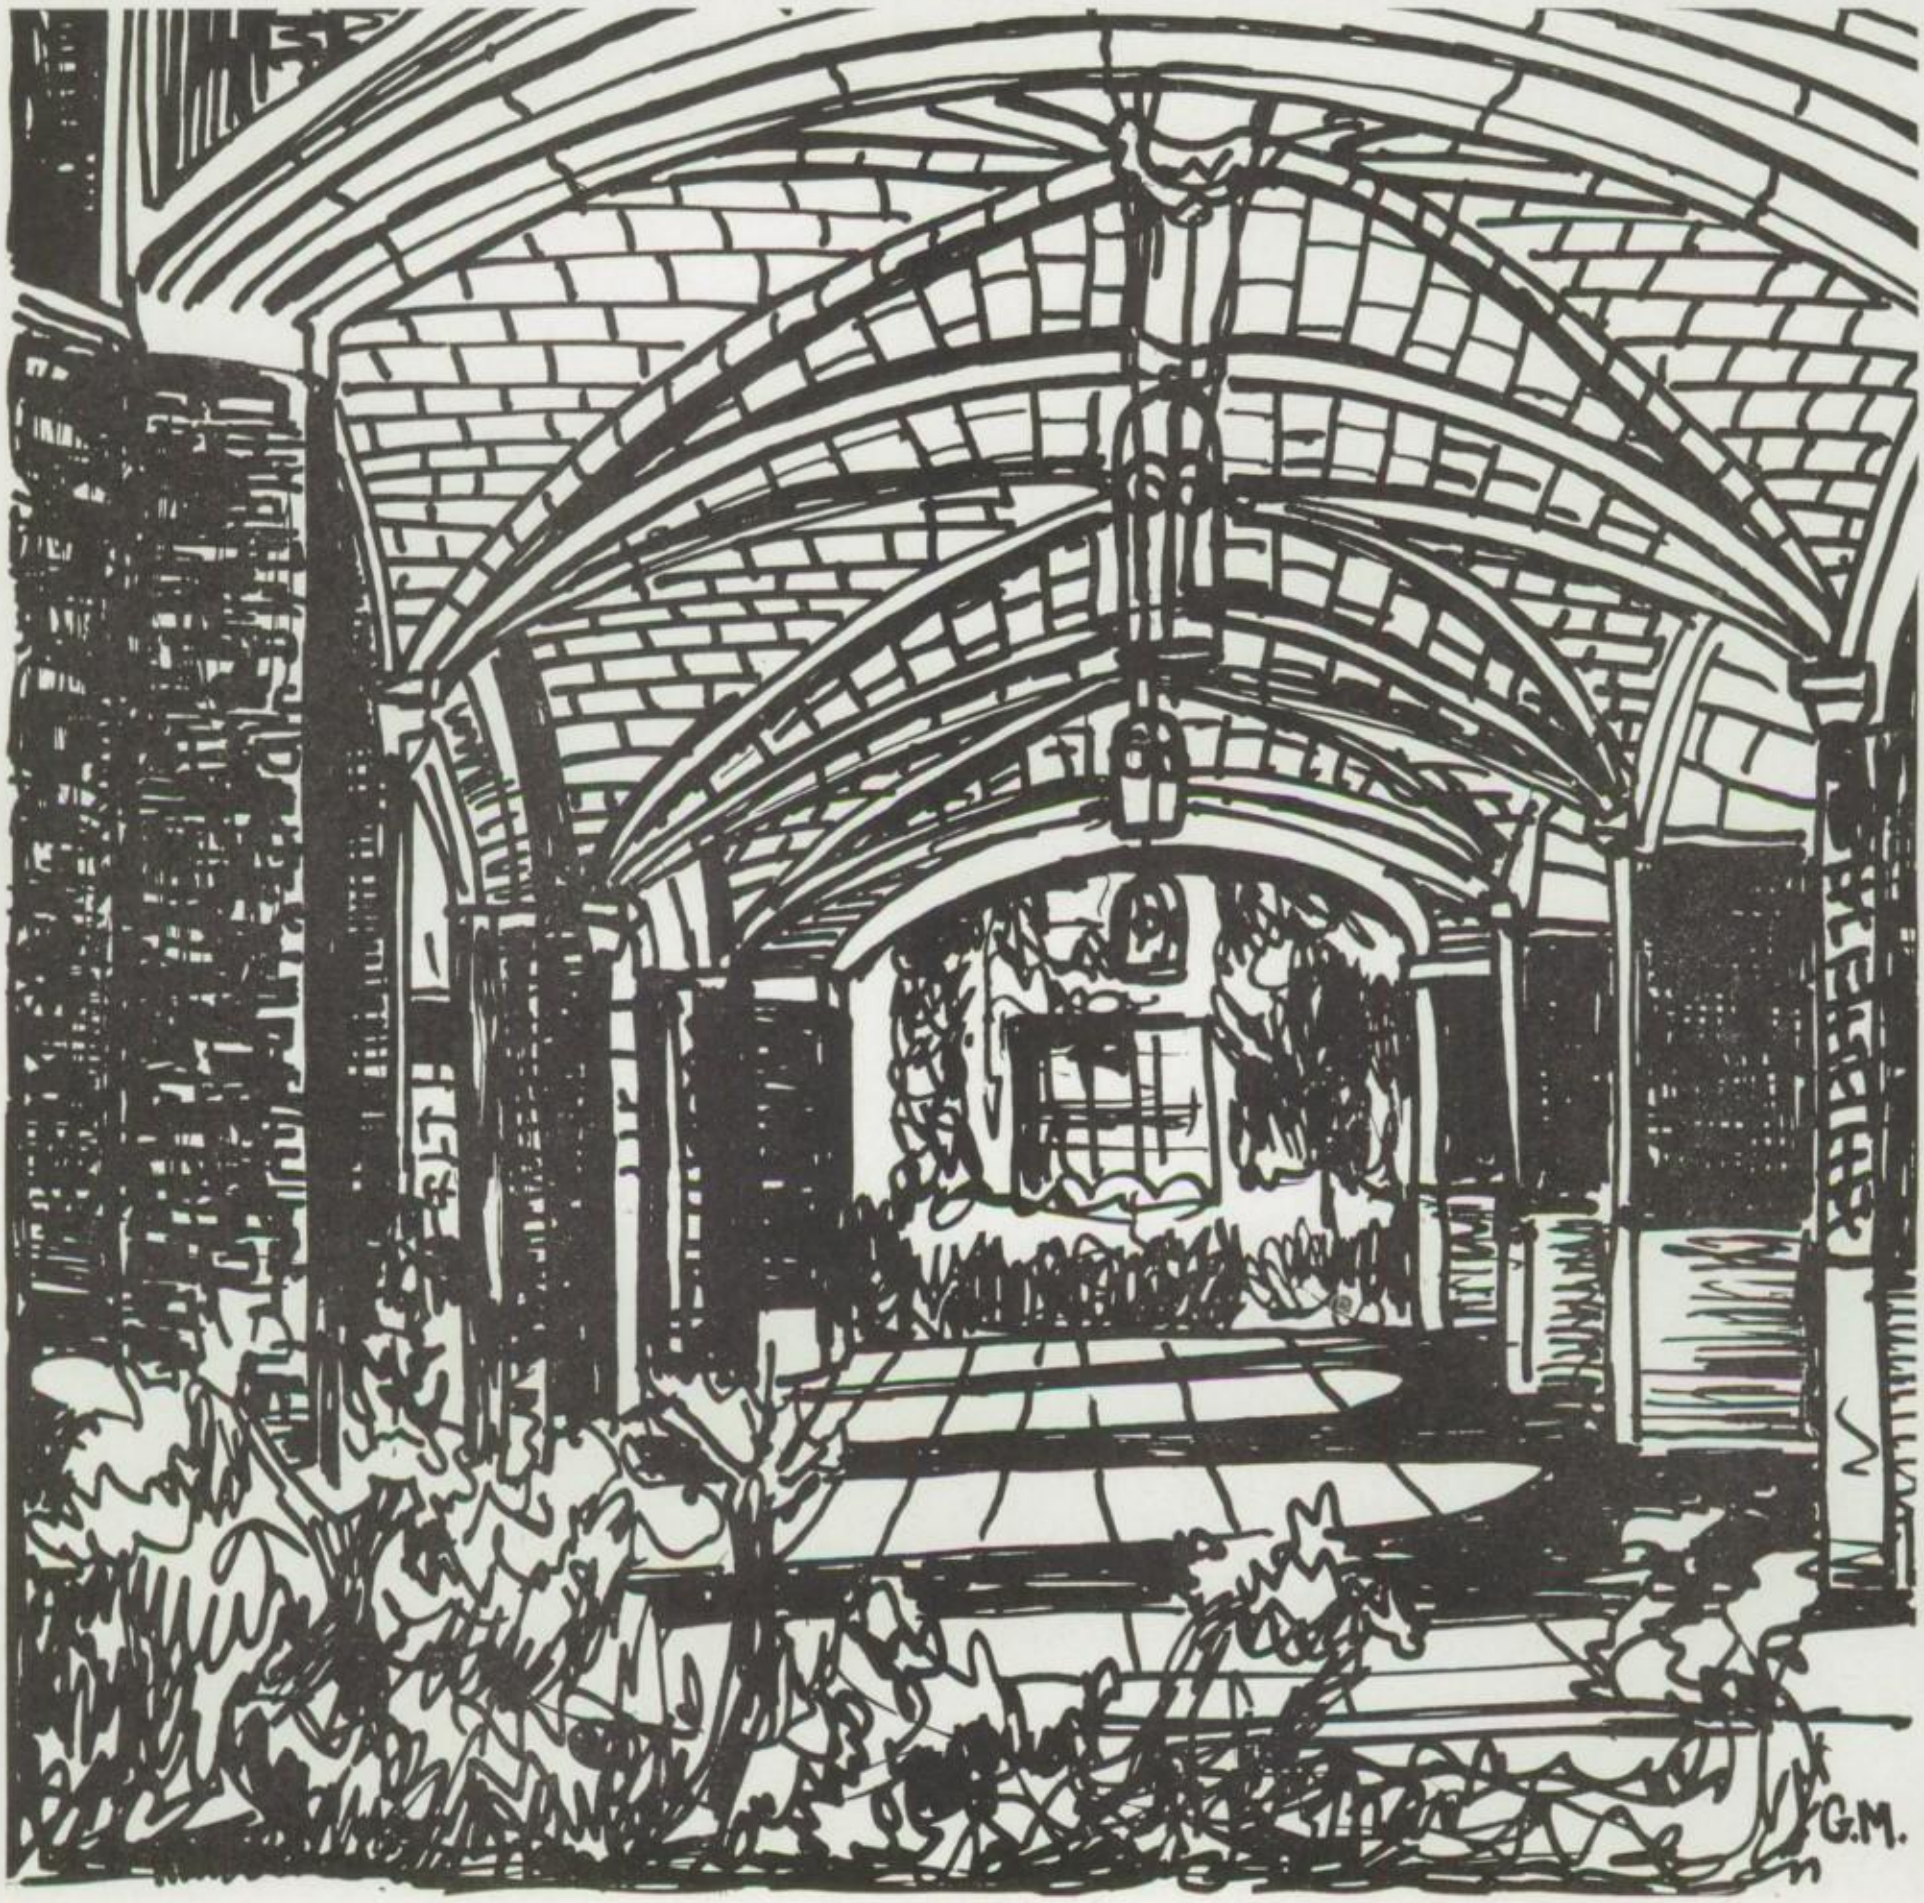
The unexpected resignation of Miss Gerdes and Mrs. Kruse was regretted by both teachers and pupils alike. Miss Gerdes is now teaching at Ohio Northern University, and Mrs. Kruse is enjoying her well-earned leisure at home.

Chef Rusie flashes a happy smile.

Mr. Vossler and Mr. Lincke supervise in their respective departments.

Christmas carols are enjoyed by all the faculty.

CLASSES



Common bond is recognized as the pattern by which solidity is assured; thus the combined classes compose the unified student body. While sitting in study hall 116 waiting for the 8:50 bell to ring, one can observe how the four classes are united by a common semblance. Here the venerable senior jokes with the youthful freshman, and the naive sophomore converses with the sophisticated junior. Yet these four factions are brought together by a common bond — the desire for education.

IN MEMORIAM

ROGER DUFFEY

PAULINE MURASKI

Roger Duffey's warm personality, cheerful smile, and sense of humor are greatly missed by all his schoolmates. His ability to make and keep friends accounted for his ever-widening circle of friends and his varied interests. Roger's talents led him to many school activities including the band and the Dramatics Club. His success in school proved that he was a good student who was well liked by both his teachers and schoolmates.

The passing of Pauline Muraski left her classmates deeply saddened, for it seems tragic that the lives of young people should so suddenly fade and cease. We begin to realize that in life there are many circumstances which are beyond our comprehension and which we are forced to accept.

To the family and friends of Roger and Pauline, we extend our sympathy for the loss of two persons who exemplified the true spirit of youth.

The credit for planning the details of the successful Junior play, "The Egg and I" can be attributed to Carol Sue Ringel, Dave Osburn, Janice Grund, Lorena Hargrave, Robert Pfeifer, Pauline Ott, Ken Miller, Caroline Moulton, and Dick Ewen.

In cooperation with the senior committee, an all-important Junior-Senior Prom was planned by the following Juniors: Mary Schatz, Janet Kellermann, Sue Willinger, John Clevenger, Bill Fuller, Larry Cook, and Victor Ramsey.

The junior ring always reflects memories, but for Ralph Wobser, Betty Ann Smythe, Nicole Kendall, Jim Somerville, Dave Meyer, Judy Jones, and Sharon Hennessy, the memories will be particularly enjoyable ones because of their part in the selection of the rings.

Sophomores

TOP LEFT—Much effort is required to sell enough magazines to become the top salesman of a class; this fact will be confirmed by Garry Lingel, the leading senior; Charles Cornwell, the most ambitious junior; Jerry Calkins, an aspiring sophomore; and Joe Moran, an undaunted freshman. To these students and their cooperative classmates we owe the success of our magazine drive.

TOP RIGHT—Capably representing the Sophomores in the Student Council was the well-performed task of Ronald Curtis and Sue West.

Row 1—Karen Bell, Patricia Sniegowski, Linda Cramer, Christina Navarro, Linda Sarvis, Jill Honeberger, Joyce Schubert, Shirley Dillon, Diane Bowling.

Row 2—Joyce Reed, Phyllis Kwiatkowski, Millie Rohne, Pam Sun, Brenda Utz, Sandie Ritzman, Erika Bernath, Ellen Pimienta, Joyce Surtman.

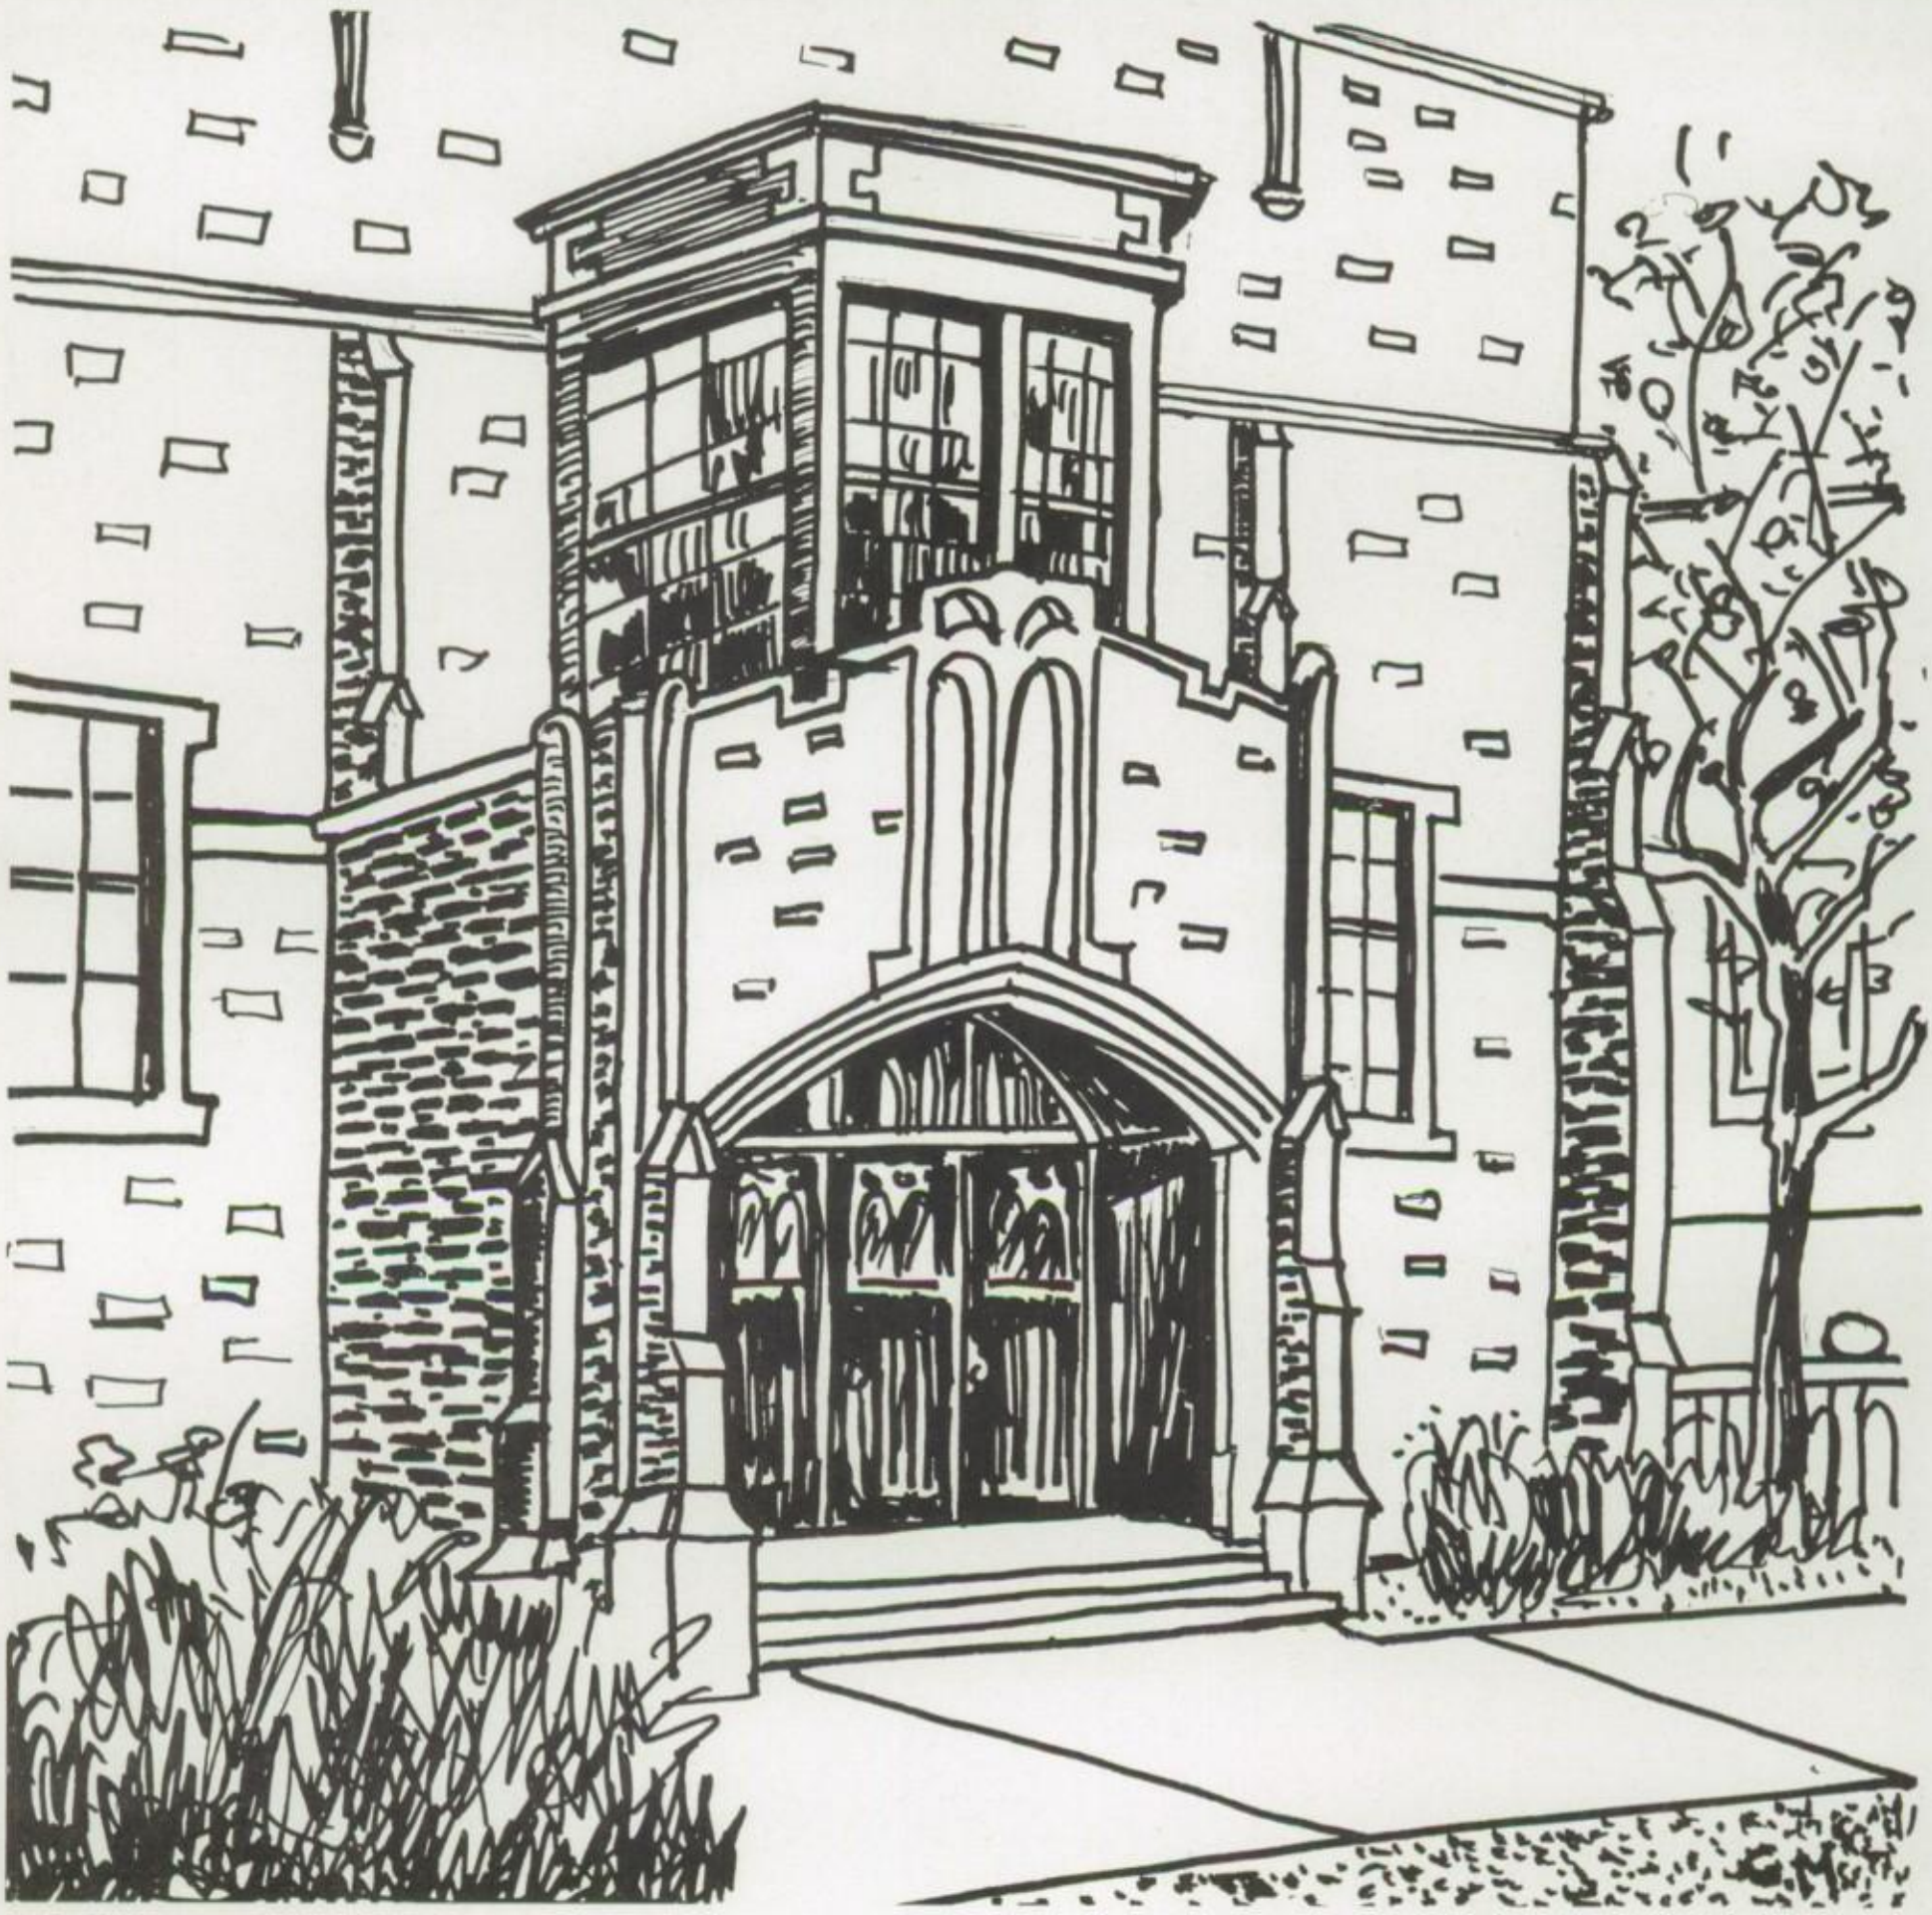
ACTIVITIES



Extra-curricular activities sponsored by our school enrich the lives of the students by offering not only a divergence from every-day routine but also entertainment combined with tactful and considerate living. Students learn cooperation, leadership, and good citizenship by sharing responsibilities in clubs of their choice. Activities, in addition to being a source of interest and enjoyment, offer training for adult participation in social and civic affairs.

Endeavoring to create and maintain the best possible relationship between the administration and the student body, Libbey's Student Council has been very active in sponsoring and instigating various service projects concerned with every phase of school life. The Student Council, twelve members elected by their classmates, has supported many worthwhile activities at Libbey. Coordinating the efforts of the various service clubs, the Council supervised the Magazine Drive, the Football Queen Campaign, the Clean-up Campaign, the election of home room representatives, and the promulgation of school events. Our members were working participants in the Area Sportsmanship Contest, the Area Student Council Dance, the Teen-Age Drive against Polio, and the Easter Lily Drive. Under the leadership of the Council, Libbey's student body gave a donation for a year's support and education of a Korean orphan. Another undertaking of the group was the successful homecoming dance held after the Libbey-St. Francis football game. The Council concluded their social events for the year with their annual spring roast.

A very important and essential division of the Libbey Student Council is the Home Room Representatives. Each first hour class elects one member in order to achieve a closer and more practical relationship with the Student Council. These representatives bring student ideas to the monthly meeting after encouraging student opinion and comments in each classroom. Under the guidance and counsel of Mr. Rusie and Mr. Martin, the Student Council concluded a successful year of co-ordinating all club activities and assisting with the solution of many student problems.

Eagerly waiting to begin the annual Clean-up Campaign are Ken Najarian, Mike Gallagher (seated), and Sharon Osterud, Carol Sue Ringel, Bill Schmid, Carol Youngs (standing).

Edelian

We, of the Edelian staff, present to you the culmination of a frenzy of activity which began last September and ended as the final pages were sent to the printer. Although we sometimes wondered if we could ever finish this momentous task, at last the cover was selected, the write-ups were typed in final copy, and the engraving plates were locked into place. We watched our book grow from blank pages to the object of suspense and admiration at the Senior Banquet when each of us eagerly awaited the distribution of the treasured record of our memorable years at Libbey.

Crystal

Clacking typewriters, harried reporters, and last minute news items combined efforts to maintain the top quality and excellence for which the monthly editions of the Crystal are well known. Although the staff members were saddened that their adviser, Mrs. Marcia Garner, left at the end of the semester, they continued their publication under the capable guidance of Mrs. Betty Bolger. This year, as always, the staff and the advisers have performed their usual vital service for Libbey in recording and interpreting all aspects of school activities. Keeping astride the rapid pace of school life here at Libbey, the Crystal, under the leadership of their co-editors, Sandie Van Drew and Sharon Osterud, featured the Inquiring Reporter and the Senior Spotlight in addition to the customary news of classes, clubs, and sports.

National

One of the highest honors to be attained by Libbey students is selection for membership in the National Honor Society. Membership is based on ratings of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Members of this group efficiently handled the details for the National Merit Scholarship and the Senior State Scholarship Tests. Other activities for the year were many and varied. Under the auspices of this club, a panel discussion of college problems was presented to all interested underclassmen. Proceeds from their next club project, the "I've Got a Secret" show, were donated to the scholarship fund. Later during the year, the society was again triumphant when their panel, Gilbert Fair, Ted Graves, Sandra Leitner, and Bob Schroeder, beat Waite in the traditional "battle of brains." Under the direction of Gilbert Fair, activities chairman, a re-match quiz was scheduled at Waite in April.

During the Christmas season the Honor Society supported the "Toys for Tots" program which gives toys to unfortunate youngsters. At a business meeting following an informal social gathering in the home of Norma Moll, the group made plans for a May banquet, at which officers for the ensuing year were installed. As social chairman, Sue Schroder made final arrangements for both the banquet and a post-induction roast.

To inspire underclassmen to strive for scholastic achievement, the National Honor Society presented certificates to freshmen and gold pins to sophomores who ranked at the top of their respective classes. Sixty-seven seniors and twenty-five juniors were given the privilege of wearing the flaming torch, the emblem of the society. They pledged to hold aloft the flaming torch of truth, to lead that others might follow in the light, to keep burning in Libbey a high scholastic ambition, to approach the highest ideals of life, to recognize life's greatest values, and to serve loyally, faithfully, and unselfishly.

Co-ordinating club projects for the year were Miss Jean Gilbert, adviser; Ted Graves, president; Norma Moll, vice-president; Sara Hamlin, secretary; and Bob Schroeder, treasurer.

Again this year the Peri motto, "Secundus nulli," "Second to none," proved to be very appropriate as they began their 1958-59 year with a swimming party at East Harbor. Almost immediately the entire club started working as a group on the traditional DeVilbiss mass meeting. In keeping with the Christmas spirit, the Peries sent a ham to a needy family, sponsored the Christmas program, graciously served a tea to the teachers, and willingly decorated study hall 116. Having fun while making money, the Peries sponsored a car wash, sold breakfast rolls, shakers, candy, and cherry pies. Throughout the year they cooperated whole-heartedly with the Phils and Zets on all Tri-Lit activities. The Peries wrote "finis" to a memorable year as they attended their annual spring banquet and the Tri-Lit Dance.

Many cherished memories of a happy and successful year will live on in the hearts of the Phils who in October were jubilant when their efforts on the homecoming mass meeting were amply rewarded by the selection of their president, Ann Haase, as football queen. As service projects for the year they contributed to the Community Chest, favored the teachers with a tea, gave a Christmas basket to a needy family in the area, and added a festive spirit to the school at Christmas time by cheerfully but laboriously decorating the cafeteria.

Again this year the vivacious Phils sponsored a delightful event for all who attended the annual Sadie Hawkins' Dance. Their various endeavors to raise money resulted in the presentation of scholarships to several deserving Phils at graduation. Festivities came to an end as the Phils joined the Peries and Zets for the Tri-Lit Dance following their respective spring banquets.

The Zets, proudly displaying their navy blue sailor sweaters and white tams, busily attended to all the Zet business and assisted with the Tri-Lit affairs. In the fall the members worked diligently on the Waite mass meeting and later had a club roast at Farnsworth Park. The Yuletide season found the Zets hanging their traditional wreath in front of the school, having a combined induction and Christmas party, and sending a basket of food to a needy family. A very enjoyable splash party and a pot luck were held at the Y.W.C.A. during spring vacation. Truly the Zet motto, "Nihil sine labore," proved appropriate as money for scholarships and club activities was raised by vacation projects and by the sales of name cards, cookies, popcorn balls, and fudge. During the year the members were also working participants in the Tri-Lit roast, tea, sox hop, and formal dance. At their annual banquet in the spring, the Zets installed their officers for the ensuing year and bade a fond but sad farewell to their former leaders.

Forum

"Many and varied" best describes the activities of the Forum members this year who sponsored the Central mass meeting which inspired our boys to defeat the formidable Central team. An unusual but delicious fund-raising project was the successful spaghetti dinner which was patronized and enjoyed by students and parents alike. During the Yuletide season the Forum sent a basket of food to a needy family. Topping the social calendar for the year was the family night which featured a meeting and movie for all members and their families. They concluded their busy but successful year by a spring roast with the Q.D.'s and their annual banquet honoring senior members.

Again this year the Q.D.'s exhibited a will-to-serve and a desire to promote leadership among their members. Their distinctions, orange and black sweaters, were a familiar sight at all Libbey functions. In October the Q.D.'s urged the team to victory at the long-remembered Scott mass meeting, and in December they portrayed the true spirit of Christmas by giving a basket to a needy group of the city. Their money-making projects included a car wash, decale sale, and a dance after the DeVilbiss basketball game. To complete their year of work and pleasure, they enjoyed a spring roast and planned a memorable formal banquet and dance for the seniors.

Hi-Y

Every boy has an opportunity to join and participate in the projects and activities of this popular service club at Libbey. As members lived up to their purpose of "creating, maintaining, and extending high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school, and community," the Libbey Hi-Y distributed materials for the Community Chest, sold newspapers for the Old Newsboys, served at the South Side "Y" Membership Banquet, and gave a Halloween party to the children at the East Toledo Orphanage. Fund raising projects included the sale of Christmas trees and a dance at the South Side "Y" featuring the WOHO disc jockey, Bill Spenser.

Together with the Senior Y-Teens this group sponsored the Lenten services for the student body. The Mother and Sons' banquet held in the spring brought the activities of another worthwhile year to a close.

"To grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God" was the goal of the Senior Y-Teens. Under the capable advisorship of Miss Allen, the vivacious Y-Teens carried out many worthwhile projects for the school and for the community. In the fall they donated money for football equipment, and at the end of the season they busily served at the football banquet. The Macomber Mass Meeting proved to be a hilarious success with an amusing skit in which the friendly rivalry between Mr. Grabill and Coach Momsen was depicted as they debated the importance of their respective jobs.

Y-Teens

Y-Teens decorated their traditional tree for the main lobby and sponsored a party for the youngsters at the Children's Home, who were elated to receive the toys which the Y-Teens donated. During the Lenten season they joined with the Hi-Y to sponsor the inspiring Lenten services each Friday morning. Although this is a club dedicated to service, fun was had by all who attended the November breakfast, the splash party, and the potluck held at the Y.W.C.A. In co-operation with the other Y-Teen clubs in the city, the Senior Y-Teens participated in the World Friendship Fair, the Hi-Y-Teen Bermuda Hop, the Y-Teen Carnival, and the formal Y-Teen Dance. A spring tea, held in honor of their mothers, concluded a memorable year for the Senior Y-Teens.

Junior

Under the capable leadership of their adviser, Mrs. Ann Morgan, the Junior Y-Teens completed another successful year. With their motto of "service and attainment of knowledge" as their guide, they completed many projects and participated in many activities. These projects enabled the girls to fulfill their Y-Teen purpose which is "to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God." A meeting that the girls will long remember was the one at which Miss Isabelle Walter spoke about the Florence Crittenton Home; the talk proved to be very interesting as well as informative. The funds in the treasury were supplemented by a crisp brownie sale in February and the delicious cupcake sale in May. These projects made it possible for the group to sponsor a splash party and a potluck at the Y.W.C.A. later in the year. The year's program came to a close with the Mother and Daughters' Tea held in May. In accordance with their desire to serve both the school and the community, the Y-Teens received their greatest joy in helping others. Group activities, such as their spring splash party, potluck dinner, and their active participation in school affairs enabled the girls to develop well-rounded personalities. Through their club activities the Y-Teens endeavored to fulfill their purpose, "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians." The possibilities are great where the potential is good, and the Y-Teens strove to prove this by encouraging girls to assume responsibility and develop good character through group participation. By becoming active in a club as large as the Y-Teens, each girl is given the opportunity to do her utmost to prepare for the greater responsibilities of later life. Endeavoring to bring to every sophomore girl the opportunity of participating in a club whose aim is to be of service to the school and to the community, the Sophomore Y-Teens enrolled 149 members this year. This club may well be proud of the fact that all sophomore girls are welcomed into the membership of their organization.

Co-operation, too, was an accomplishment of the Sophomore Y-Teens as they worked together washing cars and selling fudge to supplement the funds in their treasury. Service projects for the school included making posters for the bulletin boards, sending a Christmas basket to a needy family, and presenting a tea preceding the February teachers' meeting. Under the capable adviserships of Mrs. Pinkava, the Sophomore Y-Teens completed a year which proved profitable to all.

F.B.L.A.

With the annual roast at Walbridge Park, another successful year began for the Libbey chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America. Always striving to bring about a better understanding of business and a closer co-operation with industry, the active committees of F.B.L.A. brought such speakers as Mr. Robert Pomeroy of Shaw-Walker Filing Company and Mr. Al Sautter of the Sautter Employment Agency to explain different phases of business to the group. The social events very successfully presented included the roast in the fall, a Halloween Party at the Y.M.C.A., a Christmas Party, a February Tea for Mothers and, of course, to climax the year, the banquet held at Faith Lutheran Church where newly elected officers were installed. Money-making projects were varied and included the sale of potato chips, candy bars, and candy Easter eggs. The funds obtained from these projects not only afforded the year's social events but also provided a means to send four representatives, Doug Becker, Ray DeChristopher, Martha Anderson, and Peggy Hess, to the State Convention, which was held in Akron. State affiliations and those with the national organization, too, played a very important role in giving new ideas and higher aims to all F.B.L.A. chapters. Many members also plan to attend the 1959

F. T. A.

In the interest of enlightening its members about the advantages of teaching as a career, the Future Teachers of America sponsored several significant projects such as lectures by Libbey faculty, college visitations, and the distribution of pertinent information concerning teaching. After a vigorous membership campaign, additional future teachers pledged to uphold the purpose of the club, "to learn about the opportunities and responsibilities of the teaching profession and its important role in our community." Some of the members were selected to act as guides during Open House and at the Eighth-Grade Visitation while others gained firsthand experience as they substituted for several hours during the absence of teachers. All members actively participated in the sale of bookcovers in order to supplement a scholarship fund for deserving seniors. At the traditional spring banquet, officers for the ensuing year were inducted.

Classical Honor Society

As indicated by their motto, "Scientia Arx Saeculorum," "Knowledge, Citadel of the Ages," the members of the Classical Honor Society believe that an acquaintance with the civilizations of Greece and Rome will help them to understand the world of today which is indebted to ancient culture for its background in government, languages, and art. Membership is merited by success in Latin and interest in the classical era.

The Latin booth representing a Roman dining room (triclinium) won special honorable mention at the Toledo Flower Show.

Under the able guidance of their adviser, Miss Virginia May, the Junior Red Cross has renewed service locally, nationally and internationally. Their membership campaign, in which each home room at Libbey was enrolled, provided money for the service projects and for the needy of Toledo and the United States. By sponsoring the overseas gift boxes for the underprivileged children in Europe, they have endeavored to fulfill their motto, "We help others."

Biology

Nineteen fifty-nine has been a memorable year for this organization, for they became a chartered member of the National Organization of Biology Clubs on November 26. In order to carry out their purpose, "to encourage an interest in biology and to further the students' understanding of related sciences," they exchanged pamphlets and specimens with other clubs. Although their technical chapter name is Omicron, they are more frequently called the "Buckeyes" as the buckeye is the specimen that they have chosen to exchange with other clubs. On May 15th, 16th, and 17th, it was their pleasure to be hosts to the National Convention of Biology Clubs; representatives from all states of the United States, including the distant state of Alaska, attended. The program included discussion groups, a trip to the zoo, and a visit to our majestic Museum of Art. By participating in the national program they tried to follow their motto "Scientia Vitae, Dux Vitae," "Knowledge of life, leader of life."

The varied program of the year was presented to the club under the capable guidance of Miss Lydia Fiedler and Miss Lasetta Pickard. The officers who directed their many worth-while projects were Ronnie Champion, president; Nancy Robinson, vice-president; Donna Vanderwulp, secretary; Becky Dauer, treasurer; and Ed Garrett, reporter. At the end of the year all members enjoyed the picnic at which the seniors were presented with a graduation gift.

F.N.A.

In fulfillment of their purpose, "to learn to be of service to others and to stimulate interest in nursing as a profession," the members of the Future Nurses of America planned a very interesting and eventful year under the direction of their officers: Diane Bigelow, president; Mary Ann Walters, vice-president; Joyce Suter, secretary; Marsha Dolby, treasurer; Barbara Wood, reporter; Shirley Grindle, co-reporter; and Sue Luhring, chaplain. As service projects the members sent needed articles to the patients of Toledo State Hospital and raised money for scholarships to be given at the end of the year. The social activities for the year included an induction tea, at which twenty-five new members were added to the roster, an Inter-Council of Future Nurses' Tea at the Academy of Medicine last October, a Christmas party at Woodward High School, and a Mothers' Tea in May.

At their meetings the girls endeavor to learn about the opportunities of nursing as a career and to discover the qualities and aptitudes essential to a good nurse. Several speakers, including their adviser, Mrs. Florence Tanner, related to them the fundamentals of nursing and gave demonstrations of difficult but useful techniques. In future years many girls will gratefully recall the inspiration and practical experience given to them both at these meetings and during the day as they assisted Mrs. Tanner with the problems, emergencies, and duties of her office.

Dramatics

.inda Schmitt, pres.; Bonnie Upton, rec. secy.; Judy Telb, cor. secy.; Barbara Beatty, vice-pres.; Darla Hull, treas.

The members of the Dramatics Club, who are willing to perform all the arduous tasks involved in play production, combined promising talent and effective scenery to make their productions of Brother Goose, The Egg and I, and several one-act plays a success. At the annual May banquet these promising theatrical novices expressed their gratitude to their capable adviser, Miss Angela Costigan, who gave unstintingly of her time and effort.

Numerous were the games and activities which the girls in the white gym suits supervised both during class time and after school under the supervision of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Billmaier, and Mrs Fisher. Throughout the year the members managed a volleyball play day for eighth graders and took an active part in the intramural basketball and volleyball tournaments. To complete their year of fun, they participated in the Bowling Green Play Day and enjoyed a roast in the spring.

Orchestra

To stimulate public interest in symphony orchestras and cultural music, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. James R. Grabill, participated in the Regional and All-State Orchestras, presented a program in February, performed at the Libbey Open House, and recruited new members by playing for the Eighth Grade Visitation. Between the last strains of "Oklahoma" and the downbeat of Schubert's Symphony, the musicians found time to sponsor a roast with the band and to attend a concert at Bowling Green University.

Jim Williams, treas.; Mary Sue Willinger, vice-pres.; Karen Olson, librarian; and Sandra Leitner, pres.

Activities

Some of the busiest students in our school are those who ably assist Mr. Martin in many of the time-consuming activities such as selling activity tickets, staffing our stationer's desk, taking Edelian orders, and distributing the yearbook, a task which they efficiently and systematically perform for the seniors at the banquet and for the underclassmen on Edelian day. By their cheerful performance of these duties, they have achieved their purpose which is "to promote interest and participation in school events throughout the school year."

Choir

In their blue and gold robes, Libbey's choir helped to inspire the reverent attitude present at our Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Lenten church services. Many tireless hours of tedious practice were spent preparing for the annual Spring Music Festival held at the Toledo Museum of Art. Through the efforts of Mr. Harold McClure, their director, members of the choir were taught to sing harmoniously together and to enjoy a feeling of musical accomplishment. In addition to performing for several P.T.A. meetings, the choir sang at the Baccalaureate and Commencement services.

This year the group sponsored a sox-hop in March, entitled "Evening in Rhythm." A spring banquet held in honor of the senior choir members marked the finale of a year of musical study.

Band

Adding spirit and vivacity to all Libbey mass meetings and athletic contests, the band faithfully performed under the direction of Mr. James Grabill. The superb playing of these members helped to raise the morale of both the team and the student body with their inspirational music. In addition to a banquet in December and one in May at which deserving members were presented with awards for outstanding service, the band had two roasts which were enjoyed by all. Included on the year's agenda were concerts presented in February and May, a tag day in October, and a potluck for parents of the band members. A jubilant air was added to this organization when our majorettes returned with first prize from a drill contest in which they participated last summer.

Pep

"Let's go, Cowboys! We want some action!" was the cry commonly heard as the one hundred and twenty members of the Pep Club streamed into the football stadium to cheer the Libbey Cowboys on to victory. In order to accomplish their main purpose of promoting school spirit and encouraging good sportsmanship at athletic functions, this newly organized group sat together at games and tried to urge all students to participate in organized school cheers. At their meetings the cheerleaders taught interested Libbeyites both the words and the actions of new cheers. Much pep and enthusiasm is displayed by this club not only at mass meetings but also at athletic meets where school spirit and vivacity may

We all appreciate the cheerfulness and ability with which Mrs. McMillan supervises our library.

Upperclassmen enjoy refreshments at the Cowboy Roundup.

ATHLETICS

Beneficial competition flourishes in the active school sports as the Libbey coaches strive to build character and to lead their teams to victory. Strongly fostered by those who sponsor these contests is the thought that although the experience of victory is pleasant, the fairness by which it is gained is far more consequential. Libbey teams will always walk through that victory arch with a sincere belief in the importance of honesty and integrity.

Libbey Coaches

Too much recognitions can never be given to the coaches for the tremendous effort they put forth in order to train our teams and to build character and physical fitness. Therefore, the Edelian staff joins with the Libbey athletes in paying tribute to these "builders of men," our Libbey coaching staff.

This group of conscientious hard working coaches, who have consistently developed athletes of whom we may be proud, are headed by Mr. Robinson, our athletic director. "Robbie," as he is affectionately called by his friends, has handled with enthusiasm and ability all the intricacies of finance and scheduling; he has also co-ordinated the many functions that were held in the field house. We congratulate all our coaches on the large part they have played in advancing Libbey athletics and school sportsmanship.

In addition to his many other football awards, Bill "Thunder" Thornton received the Most Valuable Player Trophy from Coach Momsen.

We, the members of the Edelian staff, wish to express our sincere appreciation to the many patrons and sponsors who have so graciously lent us their moral and financial support. Our hopes for an outstanding yearbook could not have materialized without the liberal support which these public-minded citizens have given us.

The "Toys for Tots" campaign, sponsored by the Student Council at Christmas time, was made successful by our contributions to the needy children. The Christmas tree added a festive air to the lobby of our school.

Helping to keep us warm during the chilly winter months, Mr. Walter Borysiak fires the furnace with great vigor.

Mr. Gere, head engineer, watches diligently the gauges that control the heat in the building.

Mrs. Patterson is serving Mr. Klein a "hot lunch."

Mr. Carr and Mr. Cherry are in a gay conversive mood while tending to the appearance of the building.

Cafeteria workers who are responsible for the food which is served us are Mrs. Patterson, Miss Mackin, Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. Myer, Mrs. Wittes, Mrs. Elwing, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Gabriel, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Yutzy, and Mrs. Phillips.

Glass
Has Made A Difference

Now is the time to reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school — the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, we think you'll agree that glass has made a difference!

Here's picture-proof that school corridors don't have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.

Golly, we were hungry!

Band members give a bit of friendly competition to the majorettes.

Mmm! They taste as good as they look.

The art class seems to be following the lead of Lilly Daché.

We think they're pretty, too.

The Schmidt family enjoy one of our mass meetings.

See the intelligent expression on Panda Pete's face!

Who's who?

Everyone is in a talkative mood after the Zet induction.

Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Keim serve the F.B.L.A. officers.

Big sisters serve their little sisters a tasty snack after the Phil induction.

Our foreign born students are very photogenic.

Sue rests her tired feet after the F.B.L.A. Tea.

Almost everyone tried a few intricate dance steps.
The Grand March was the highlight of the evening.
Several of the committee members pose with their dates.
Bill Thornton leads the singing of the "Blue and Gold."

Everybody dance!
The girls' coats must be checked.
Smile pretty!
Our senior class president leads the Grand March.
